

Hello to all!

We hope all our dancers and their families are doing well and staying healthy! With things changing so quickly, we will continue to send updates.

For now, we will take it week to week. The safety of our dance families and staff is very important to us. In person dance classes will be postponed for another week, so through March 28th. Please know our creative minds are still hard at work coming up with alternative ways to stay connected with our students so they can keep practicing during this hiatus.

Exciting News! We are creating a studio Youtube channel! Videos of many of our recital dances will be uploaded so our dancers can practice at home along with their teachers. We hope to share this with you by next week! It is our hope dancers practice at least once a week as if they were at the studio. Some of the choreography for our older dancers involves partnering, groups doing different things at the same time, etc. Therefore, those are more challenging to share but hope those dancers will still take the time to run through at home.

For our younger students, attached you will find some dance activities and coloring pages. We would love for these to be completed and shared with us! You can keep them in a special folder to bring in when the time comes or share with us via email or on our Facebook page.

Also attached is the recital t-shirt order form, including this year's logo, that can be mailed in.

A Time for Dance is committed to showcasing our students' hard work and will continue to work to achieve this goal. We appreciate your continued support!

Thank you,
Michelle, Laurie, & Renee
